

Case Study | The Kverneland Group UK

“All pre-printed stationery was eliminated in less than 5 months.

Jon Tarr, Kverneland's IT Manager

Kverneland had a multitude of dot matrix printers when it decided to eliminate pre-printed and multi-part stationery, while moving up to laser printers for more quality printing and eliminating frequent paper jams. The business goal was to substantially upgrade printing capabilities. Jon Tarr, Kverneland's IT Manager, reports that what most attracted the group to a PrintBOS solution was the “simplicity of document design, and,

“Add to that a boost in productivity, since users no longer have to change stationery, can make changes to documents instantly, and benefit from the much faster output of the OKI laser printers delivered with PrintBOS. Needless to say, we've improved control of design.

Jon Tarr, Kverneland's IT Manager

PrintBOS to print, archive and e-mail a very broad variety of documents, including sales orders, acknowledgements, invoices, credit notes, reprints, statements, purchase orders, remittance advice, payslips and month-end reports.

“On pre-printed stationery alone we are saving thousands of euros per annum” Jon Tarr relates, “so we expect payback very quickly. All pre-printed stationery was eliminated in less than 5 months.”

“Add to that a boost in productivity, since users no longer have to change stationery, can make changes to documents instantly, and benefit from the much just as important, its multiple functionalities. Alternatives we reviewed did not have all the modules, such as e-mail and archiving. And the price was right.”

Kverneland now benefits from clear workflow improvements and savings. It uses faster output of the OKI laser printers delivered with PrintBOS. Needless to say, we've improved control of design.” Jon Tarr is also pleased with the minimal maintenance of PrintBOS and its ease-of-use. He quotes Kverneland's Accounts Manager, who says: “PrintBOS will dramatically change the way we do things. For example, I do not have to go to a filing cabinet to search for invoices. I can now retrieve them at the touch of a button, using PrintBOS archive module.”

»» business challenges

- Upgrading printing
- Improve workflow
- Avoid preprinted stationery

»» Achieved benefits

- Vast Savings in pre-printed forms
- Fast ROI
- Greater productivity
- Simpler processes
- Easy retrieval of documents

